WESTERN STRONG CONTENDER FOR SCHOOL FOOT BALL TITLE

Victory Over Eastern Decisive Enough to Indicate It Has Chance to Defeat Tech and Business.

BY H. C. BYRD.

Western High is a serious contender for the high school foot ball championship. The team yesterday did so well against Eastern, winning 14 to 0, that it cannot be denied that it stands pretty near an even chance against Business and Tech. The Stenographers and Manual Trainers have the Red and White to fear more than any other combination, and the honors seem to lie between Tech, Business and Western.

The margin by which Western defeated Eastern was decisive. On both occasions that it got the ball within scoring distance of the Eastern goal it had the "punch" to put the ball across Western's line. It was the first time that the Red and White made a heavy eleven man attack, a punter who will gain many yards for it in all its games, unless the other kickers show more ability along that line than they have in the contests played so far.

"Dutch" Peck's work in punting yesterday was a big factor in the success of the Red and White, and Western made something that the other high schools have hesitated to do nearly all the time—played a kicking game. Time after time Western punted on first, second, down and the ball went over the head of the man playing back, for good gains. It was the factor which enabled Western to win the game. Its touchdowns, and it was a kind of game which is always successful in the hands of the Red and White.

The game resulted just as was thought it would. Eastern was not expected to win without a great deal of luck, and the Red and White were sure that the services of Wallace, last year's center rush, would be available. Wallace's work in the Cornell game made him a fixture in his old place, and Cowan was taken from right guard on the varsity team and Taylor was shifted from center to guard. The drive was for the substitutes against the scrubs. The substitutes were full of ginger, scoring three touchdowns on hard line plays and Robinson making a 30-yard field goal.

HARVARD REGULARS OUT.

Crimson Coach Shapes Team That Will Face Princeton.

Thirty-Five Candidates Answer Pop Lannigan's Call, and Last Year's Team Is Intact.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., October 27.—Monday afternoon the first basketball practice of the University of Virginia team was held, about thirty-five candidates responding to Pop Lannigan's call, and several more are likely to come out later in the season. Among the candidates for the team this year are all the men who composed the championship quint of the past season, not a single man having been lost from the team.

There are eleven men in the university now who have letters for basketball. A good many of these are sureties for the team, while the rest are the others that there will be no losing on the job of it will be taken away from them. A new addition is Charlie Churchman, who was captain of the 1912-13 team, and played a good game at guard those years. He has been out of school for a year or so, but is now back, and out for the team with a vengeance. He has quite a job ahead of him, however, as he is a freshman, and he has to make a name for himself in this year's lineup.

Cricketing is captain of this year's team, and holds down the position of center. Last year's captain, Stickle, a very bright player and an all-around forward, and Nickels, also a forward, are the best bets for those positions this season. Dietrich, a very bright player and an all-around forward, are the best bets for those positions this season. Dietrich, a very bright player and an all-around forward, are the best bets for those positions this season.

NEW MATERIAL AVAILABLE.

There is a good deal of new material at Charlottesville this year for filling any gaps which may occur in the team. Polindexter, who now is out for foot ball, and plays an end now and then, has had a good deal of experience in tugging for the baskets. His job was that of center, which he held down regularly on the Missouri quint, and his looks would certainly not belie him for the part. Then, also, Scovell Martin, from Glenridge, N. J., has quite a basketball reputation.

Boutwright, a first-year man from Lynchburg, and also a footballist, is said to be quite good. He was a center on the Y. M. C. A. team at his home city, which has quite a reputation as a worthy aggregation. There is a great deal of other material, among which may be mentioned one "Joe" Bailey, son of ex-Senator Joseph H. Bailey of Texas, who was at Princeton last year. He has come out for the team, and, according to other ball tossers, is showing quite a bit of good form and may have a chance for one of the substitute positions.

For the past two years Virginia has had excellent teams in this sport, having lost but one game in 1912, and none in 1913. She was awarded the S. A. I. A. A. championship last year. Her men have been playing together so long that they work like a well oiled machine, and the fact that there are no newcomers this season from last year's lineup bodes ill for their opponents.

The season usually embraces seventeen games, with two trips, one to the north and the other south. This has been followed this year, and while arrangements are

KANFEDS LOST MONEY.

Club Must Be Refinanced to Hold Its Franchise.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., October 27.—According to a statement incorporated in a report made at a meeting of stockholders of the Kansas City Federal League club, the club lost $35,332.13 this year. Conrad H. Mann, president of the club, said in his report last night.

"In order that the season might be finished with credit to Kansas City, the directors personally advanced considerable sums of money to the company, and it will seem, if the company is to continue next season and avoid forfeiture of its franchise, now threatened, it must be refinanced immediately."

Jack Hegarty's North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical College team is due to come here this week on a tour. Annapolis to play the Naval Academy. Hegarty came through Washington last Saturday on his way to the Maryland capital to get a line on the Navy and V. P. I., but did not have much to say about his team. Hegarty did say, though, that Georgetown may look for a great deal of opposition when it faces the University of South Carolina than it might expect. He said that South Carolina, according to Hegarty, is a powerful eleven, one that is capable of giving the Red and White a good deal of trouble. He said that he thought of his prospects against Georgetown, giving vent to an opinion that Georgetown had one of the strongest teams in its history, and that it would take a mighty good combination to defeat it.

The Maryland Aggies-St. John's game Saturday night was a power play, which was a reversal of form in some places. Capt. Miles, who has improved greatly in carrying the ball and in getting play, seems now to be firmly fixed at quarter. Martin and Westphal are ahead of the bunch as halfbacks and Von Heimburg is an easy first choice at fullback.

The Maryland Aggies-St. John's game Saturday night was a power play, which was a reversal of form in some places. Capt. Miles, who has improved greatly in carrying the ball and in getting play, seems now to be firmly fixed at quarter. Martin and Westphal are ahead of the bunch as halfbacks and Von Heimburg is an easy first choice at fullback.

Georgetown is not scheduled to play this week, being booked for a contest with Fordham University at Fordham next Tuesday. Fordham is stronger than usual this season, and the Hill-toppers are not going to take chances. They are getting their team in good condition since the blue and gray is banking on winning from the New Yorkers, as the contest of a year ago, played here, ended in a tie. Fordham and Georgetown used to be great rivals, but last year was the first time since 1909 that they have played. The game next Tuesday is a resumption of the annual election day affair which used to feature the schedule of college games.

There is some question regarding the eligibility of Barr, who plays in the backfield for the Hill-toppers. It seems that Barr took part last summer in an athletic meet under an assumed name, which, if it is true, will bar him from further competition in high school athletics, according to one of the faculty members. A meeting of the advisory board will be held within a few days, when a decision will be made.

It is very likely that the game between Business and Central Friday will be played on the Catholic University field. Certain conditions make it impossible for the high schools to use Georgetown field on that date, and arrangements are being made to use that at Catholic University.

Gallaudet will go against an exceptionally strong team when it faces Roanoke College Saturday. Roanoke played the North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical College 20 to 0 game two weeks ago, and undoubtedly has a more powerful combination than any of the other secondary colleges in Virginia. Gallaudet is a strong team, but it will have its work cut out for it if it is to win from the Roanoke crew.

Catholic University should experience little trouble winning from Delaware College. Delaware has a better team than the average small college, but it is questionable if it is going to be near strong enough to do anything other than give the Brooklanders a good hard workout. Delaware, if Catholic University takes it lightly, though, might spring a surprise. Catholic University ought not to let its victory over Delaware take it to think it is going to have a "cinch," because such it is not likely to be. Overconfidence has beaten more than one foot ball team.

NAVY IMPROVES PASSES.

Westphal and Blodgett Show Form in Receiving Ball.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., October 27.—The Naval Academy team showed in yesterday's afternoon practice that it is acquiring real proficiency in the use of the forward pass, with which it has had little success so far this season.

A large percentage of its attempts were successful, and most of them resulted in long gains. In two cases touchdowns were scored on the play. Near the middle of the practice Westphal and Blodgett showed form in receiving the ball. Westphal, a powerful eleven, one that is capable of giving the Red and White a good deal of trouble. He said that he thought of his prospects against Georgetown, giving vent to an opinion that Georgetown had one of the strongest teams in its history, and that it would take a mighty good combination to defeat it.

The backfield which was used during most of the practice this year is now practically settled upon. Miles is a powerful eleven, one that is capable of giving the Red and White a good deal of trouble. He said that he thought of his prospects against Georgetown, giving vent to an opinion that Georgetown had one of the strongest teams in its history, and that it would take a mighty good combination to defeat it.

ARMY LACKS PRACTICE.

WEST POINT, N. Y., October 27.—The early and late hour sessions of the Army foot ball team yesterday were both short, and neither of them productive of much good. Only light work was meted out during the first drill, and it was so late when the men were free from military duties that the big riding hall was again the scene of the day's practice. There the squad rolled and tumbled in the tank bark for an hour, with but little benefit other than physical development.

Punting was out of the question, although the kickers, Ford and Coffin, both returned to the squad. Light scrimmaging with the scrubs was indulged in without any scoring. Meacham and Parker were also in evidence. Bob Neyland's end play continues to improve. McWhorter and Oliphant were not worked. Big Mac can take his turn readily enough, but it will be some time before the coaches call on Oliphant. Tubbill got back from New Haven, where he has been visiting Trainer Mack of the Yale team, and will be in the line of play. Yale's equipment and training methods.

GOLF TOURNEY STARTS.

Play for President's Cup at Chevy Chase Club Opens Today.

The annual handicap golf tournament for the President's cup at Chevy Chase Club started today under the most favorable conditions, the weather being almost perfect, the course good, although somewhat slow to get a roll on the ball, and the entry list comprising the best view to setting pointers on the organization. The pairings published in last evening's Star indicate close matches should result, as the handicaps are calculated to bring the players very near to each other by the time the home hole is reached.

Many of the prophets around the clubhouse have made Samuel Dabell the favorite for the tournament, as he has been playing brilliantly this fall, but a "dark horse," carrying a good sized handicap, may have appeared by the time the finals are played Saturday afternoon.

Herron Wins Princeton Golf Title.

PRINCETON, N. J., October 27.—Davidson Herron yesterday won the Princeton golf championship and the president's cup by defeating W. A. Lowrie, 6 up and 5 to play, in the final round. Herron tied the low score in the qualifying round of the recent championship tournament at Detroit.

ROOTERS TO RIDE AS CARETAKERS FOR PIG

HANOVER, October 27.—Several Dartmouth students have devised a new way to get to the foot ball game next Saturday at Amherst. The interested students have organized a committee to allow students to ship themselves as live stock on freight trains, which would make travelling much cheaper than by passenger train. So it was decided to ship a small pig in a special car to Amherst with as many students as possible as caretakers. If there are enough students who are willing to see that the pig reaches its destination, another pig will be bought and shipped in another car.

TO PUNISH PLAYERS

Ban Johnson After Rice of the Griffen, Scott and Weaver.

PLAYED AGAINST FEDERALS Are Amenable to Discipline Under New Rule Adopted by National Commission.

CHICAGO, October 27.—President Ban Johnson of the American League learned yesterday that Jim Scott and Buck Weaver of the White Sox, Pitcher Rice of Washington and Alex McCarty of the Cubs had engaged in a contest at Watseka, Ill., last Sunday, opposing a picked team which included Grover Gilmore and Felix Chouinard, Federal Leaguers. The following query was put to President Johnson: "Was there not a recent ruling by the national commission allowing players under contract with clubs of the National or American leagues to play winter base ball without restriction in regard to Federal Leaguers appearing in the same game? In other words, was a Federal League player participating in a semi-pro game bar an organized ball player from the same game under a penalty of a fine at this period of the season?"

It most assuredly would, according to President Johnson, who declared Weaver, Scott and Rice, as well as the other athletes reserved by clubs of organized base ball, were amenable to punishment for participating in any pastime against Federal Leaguers.

"The national commission has issued a ruling which covers this point," said the American League executive, "and our players who violate this order are simply playing with fire. The commission is opposed to winter base ball, as it tends to cheapen the game."

"I believe that at our next annual meeting a rule will be adopted taking the control of the players during the season out of the hands of the club owners. Then, if the players go in for winter games or risk their standings by appearing with or against Federals, scrimmaging will be the only penalty of the penalty to follow future infractions of the regulations. He deplored the incident of last Sunday at Indianapolis, when colored players, batting against Rob Russell of the White Sox, staged a free-for-all riot and knocked a luckless umpire cold after he had rendered a decision that failed to meet with the approval of the players."

In closing his arguments against winter base ball Johnson declared Frank Hancock, the veteran base ball business manager of the Cincinnati Reds, had promoted his last post-season tour of all-star players.

BILL KELLEY INJURED.

Swarthmore Star Receives Broken Leg While Scrimmaging.

PHILADELPHIA, October 27.—While scrimmaging in practice on Whittier Field at Swarthmore, yesterday afternoon, William Donald Kelley, star halfback of the Swarthmore foot ball team, received a broken leg and will be out of the game for the rest of the season. The team was preparing for the Johns Hopkins game this coming Saturday, and Kelley was regarded as its best ground runner.

With him out of the game, their chances for a victory are dimmed considerably. The varsity and scrubs had been putting up a stiff battle up to the time that Kelley was hurt. Coach Mercer, who was acting as referee, noticed that he was unable to get on his feet after a hard smash at the line. An examination disclosed his broken leg and practice was called for the day.

He was brought to the University of Pennsylvania Hospital in an automobile, and last night was resting comfortably.

Northeast League—Racarc Club vs. Imperials.

Two good sets were rolled in the bowling leagues last night. The Velvet Kind of the National Capital League got one and the Shermans of the District the other. Both clubs made clean sweeps, the Velvets defeating the Columbians and the Shermans handing a beating to the Continentals.

The Velvets rolled for a score of 513 in their first game, and then got their best total in the second when they knocked down 507. Their 505 pins in the third completed their splendid night's play. The Shermans obtained a higher total for their set than did the Velvets and also rolled a better game. Their scores are 536, 559 and 534, the aggregate being 1,595.

Allen and Elmer were the best bowlers of the Shermans, the former getting scores of 99, 124 and 107 and the latter, 110, 107 and 112.

Chapin Bowls Well.

Chapin got a good set for the Velvets, while Michael and Baum both rolled exceptional games. Chapin's marks were 118, 103 and 109, while Michael got a count of 134 in one of his contests and Baum 131.

Clean sweeps were made in both matches in the Masonic League, the Mount Pleasant defeating St. John's and the La Fayette five winning from Pennsylvania.

In the Evening Star League "Zip" Roberts won the weekly prize for high set, with scores of 85, 106 and 112. He came near grabbing the prize for high game, too, but Ellett beat him to that by one pin, knocking down 299 in the first game of the Argyle in the Arcade League rather easily, not losing more than 10 pins in any of the three.
